

MY HOME IN EROS

My home in Eros is covered with woods, deer, dove, turkey, rabbits, squirrels and chipmunks. That is very grand, because I am a hunter. My home has a pond but no water. We have two mulberry trees, one pear tree, and one apple tree. We have a barn, a house, and a half built log home. We have nine horses Sally, Pistol, Warrior, Mare, Sedona, Cassie, Liberty and L.A. We have two dogs, Drake and Dixie, and a housecat named Kit Kat and three outside cats that showed up under the barn. There are two rose bushes and other beautiful flowers. We have a total of seventeen acres. I ride my go-cart all over the place. We own and run an archery shop at our house. We have an archery range with 25 targets and we also do taxidermy work. Once a month, we have people pay us money to come out and compete on our range. We give out door prizes and trophies. Mom makes food so we can sell burgers, hot dogs, chips, candy bars, cokes and bottled water. It is a lot of fun and we spend all day and talk about hunting stories. We also have Tommy Boy, he is our pet turkey. We bought him at Turkey Trot last year for $5 from a guy who caught him in the creek. We put him in a box and brought him home to fatten him up with corn. My dad raises pheasants and quail. He had 100 eggs shipped to the house. He hatched them in his incubator and now they are grown. One day, my dad was mowing the yard and came across a nest full of quail eggs. We picked them up and counted 15 eggs. He hatched those and ended up with 14 half grown quail. We live twenty miles from town, but we still get to live on a farm. Sometimes it is a pain to have to drive all that way to town, but there is lots of space to raise our animals. I share a room with two of my brothers, so we sometimes fight. My baby brother still sleeps with my mom and dad. He is only 5 months old. So even though we do not have a lot of room inside, everyone can go somewhere for their own space. Sometimes I wish I did not have any brothers, but most of the time we have a lot of fun together.
