

Overview

The Notifications screen provides you with important messages from your provider. You'll find two types of messages: Alerts and Notifications.

Alerts: Information helpful to every customer. Often this includes information about planned service disruptions or provider promotions. Alerts are controlled by your provider and you cannot clear them from the screen.

Notifications: Account/Customer specific information related specifically to you, such as a planned service interruption or upcoming due date for a bill. The number of notifications pending appears on the Notifications bar on the home screen. Unread notifications appear in bold text. You can tap a notification to navigate to the related portion of the app. For example, tapping a notification about your bill will take you to the Bill & Pay screen. You can also delete notifications.
