

NATCO'S ONLINE VISUAL VOICE MAIL PORTAL

Convenient

Access and manage your telephone voice mail messages conveniently any where, any time from your phone, via email, or through the online Voice Mail Portal.

Saves Time

Listen to your important messages first. No more listening to message after message to hear important information. Send voice mail messages to multiple email addresses – no more repeated messages; no more written notes; everyone receives the same message at the same time.

Custom Features

Record and store various greetings for use whenever you choose. The online Voice Mail Portal makes it easy to update your settings, change or record greetings, and manage your contacts.

Go to: <http://voicemail.natconet.com>

*Microsoft Silverlight® software is required to access the online Voice Mail Portal. If you don't currently have Silverlight installed on your computer, click the link on the Portal homepage to download the free software. Installation is easy, just follow the online instructions. Once Silverlight installation is completed, you may refresh the page to enter your login information and access the online Voice Mail Portal. The online Voice Mail Portal is compatible with Internet Explorer® version 7 or higher.

Voice Mail to Email

With NATCO's Visual Voice Mail Service, you can access your voice mail messages as simply as accessing your email.

You may select to have message notifications sent directly to your email inbox. These messages will appear in your regular email with a subject line that indicates "You have a voice message from _____."

The voice message audio file will be attached to the email message. Simply click the attachment to listen or save your voice message.*

You can easily save, delete, and forward these attached audio file messages as needed. You can even choose to have your voice messages sent to multiple email addresses - a great feature for businesses or busy households!

*Audio files will play via your computer's media player. Depending on the length of the audio voice mail file, it may take a few seconds for your computer to download the message. If the audio file does not play, you may need to download a newer version of your media player software - simply follow the instructions contained in the email message.
